

Artwork of the Week

Lobster Giant Necklace - Red

Tatty Devine

(1999-)

The Tatty Devine brand was created in 1999 in the heart of east London by founders Harriet Vine and Rosie Wolfenden who met at art school.

They have a range of classic, limited edition and seasonal capsule collections, and they also collaborate with artists, designers and charitable institutions.

All Tatty Devine jewellery is designed and handmade in a London studio by a small, skilled team of makers with a passion for art jewellery.

Harriet Vine and Rosie Wolfenden

Reflection

How does the artist use shape and line in the artwork?

Why do you think this artist created this work?

Is this like other art works you have seen? Why/why not?

